

“ Perciò oggi dipingere è parte di un processo di divenire, attraverso la costruzione, velo dopo velo, in accordo con le leggi della luce che tutto illumina e pervade e l’impulso della tenebra: una esperienza spirituale; dal movimento del colore: una esperienza dell’anima.”

“ Questo modo di dipingere con velature di colore richiede pazienza per la riflessione, pazienza nel fare; quindi alla fine dell’ultima ora di pittura, un contenuto può apparire, sorgendo dallo stato d’animo del colore, creato a nuovo.”

Veil painting: gold and cobalt of the sky

The light appears emerald green, the darkness behind this light is revealed as cobalt blue; The sphere of darkness in front of the light instead manifests an atmosphere of gold that we will paint with the color earth of raw umber.

Through the experience with charcoal we will experience light and darkness. We will try to find the way of light and we will experience how darkness yearns for it.

With veiling painting we will experience how the color comes to be in the movements of darkness in front and behind the light.
